Library employee files discrimination complaint

by Jeff Nazzaro
Dorothy Wiberg, an eight-year veteran of the Wilmington Memorial Hall Library staff, has filed a complaint against the Town of Wilmington with the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD).

Wiberg contends the town discriminated against her on the basis of age and sex in hiring a full-time circulation librarian on August 13.

Executive Assistant to the Commissioners of the MCAD Jane Brayton confirmed that the complaint was filed by Wiberg September 2 and that it is currently "under investigation."

Wiberg, a 59-year-old resident of Andover Street, in Wilmington, held the position on an interim basis following the retirement of Barbara White in April of this year.

"I was doing the job from the time she retired and I was there for eight years. I know the job backwards and forwards," Wiberg stated.

Wiberg's complaint against the town through the MCAD is being handled by Attorney Sven D. Wiberg, of Rull and McKenney, a South Boston law firm.

The MCAD is an "excellent place for this complaint," Sven stated. "The commission's job is to provide relief for people who are discriminated against."

In the complaint, Wiberg alleges "the reason [she] was denied the promotion was because of my age (DOB 06/23/34) and my sex (female)."

The town hired Laura Hodgson, 35, of Brentwood Avenue in Wilmington for the full-time position. Hodgson is the daughter of Selectmen Chairman Chester Bruce.

In hiring Hodgson, Library Director Philip Meriam, according to Wiberg's complaint, explained the decision as part of an effort to bring in "new, young blood."

During Dorothy Wiberg's June 15 interview, her complaint states, she was asked by Reference Librarian David Rush about her "plans for retirement and possible needs to spend time with my grandchildren."

Sven Wiberg says the age discrimination complaint is "related to her sex," a basis on which he says Wiberg was discriminated against "implicitly, rather than explicitly."

Dorothy Wiberg alleges in her complaint that Meriam further explained the decision not to hire her "as being due to the fact Ms. Hodgson had 'computer experience.'"

The job description, as posted by the town, calls for a circulation librarian to "Perform a variety of computerized circulation procedures usually repetitive and routine in nature."

Wiberg, in her complaint, maintains she is fluent with the library's computer system and has "handled the two times these services have been up-graded with no problem."

Dorothy Wiberg has "been with the library since the computer system was installed," Sven Wiberg said.

Meriam declined comment, referring questions to Town Manager Michael Cairra.

"I don't believe the complaint has merit," Cairra said, adding, "We made the appointment based upon the correct criteria."

Cairra further said the issue of age "never entered into the deliberation." He also diffused Wiberg's sex discrimination complaint, stating "clearly the appointee [Hodgson] is a woman."

The town has 21 days after receipt of the complaint, which was sent from the MCAD on September 24, to respond. After which, Wiberg "has an opportunity to rebut the response," Brayton said. Then the MCAD, a neutral body, would launch an investigation into the matter.

Cairra verified the town had received the complaint, and indicated he would respond "on the basis of discussions with the people involved...and the assistance of counsel."

"We're certain that Dorothy was discriminated against and where it goes from there is up to the commission," Sven Wiberg said.

Watercolor artist brightens Shawmut

by Jeff Nazzaro
Next time you're in or around the Shawmut Bank at Wilmington Plaza, you might want to check out the work of some local artists.

Currently, the water colors of Wilmington resident Jane Crane are on display. Crane has six distinct paintings, all water colors, on display at the bank. The showing is the result of the work of Wilmington's Council for the Arts and Tina Prentiss, the council's first president.

Crane, a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design in art education, has studied water color painting for the last four years at the council under the tutelage of Louise Anderson. "She is also now studying under Carolyn Latanision at the Woburn Center Studio."

"I'm still learning," Crane says of her painting. "So I do different things that appeal to me and have some kind of meaning."

The six water colors she has on display reflect just that.

The two end paintings in the horizontal array stem from photographs Crane took while on vacation at Cape Cod. In between, she has recreated amaryllis flowers, birch trees and an interesting arrangement consisting of, among other items, her mother's bread board and rolling pin. She calls the painting "Motherhood and Apple Pie," and it is just one of six worth seeing before the scene shifts to the work of Barbara Doucette later this month.

Classes are now forming at the Arts Center for Friday afternoons and Tuesday evenings. Interested persons should contact the center at 658-3887.

Residents, board of health discuss Raffi-Swanson incidents

by Jeff Nazzaro
Close to 20 residents living in proximity to Raffi-Swanson, Inc. - now called Surface Coatings, Inc. - packed the Wilmington Board of Health's meeting Monday at the town hall to discuss with company executives recent incidents at that Eames Street facility.

Surface Coatings CEO Gabe Pace responded to residents regarding a September 23 spill of five to ten gallons, according to company estimates. This came in the wake of a similar accident September 20. An additional spill occurred September 10, when a previously filled tank thought to be empty was re-filled, causing an overload and leak through an emergency valve. Approximately 10-15 gallons of ethyl acrylate were spilled as a result, according to a report from the board of health.

At Monday's meeting, residents expressed frustration and concern over the spilling by Surface Coatings of ethyl acrylate, a flammable liquid which emits a strong odor even in small, undetectable quantities.

"This is an issue of trust," Virginia MacNeil-Miraglia, of Morse Avenue said.

In response, residents have formed a negotiations committee chaired by Debbie Thompson, also of Morse Avenue. The committee will consist of area residents, Fire Chief Dan Stewart, an undetermined board of health member, an undisclosed selectman and Surface Coatings officials.

"Right now we're setting an agenda and coming to an agreement about things [Surface Coatings has to do]," Thompson said.

In the meantime, Board of Health Chairman Dr. James Ficociello is calling for the implementation by Surface Coatings of a "negative pressure environment," a system which would ensure the passage of chemicals within the plant through a thermal oxidizer - a device "like an oven," which burns chemicals before sending them out into the environment.

Pace said Surface Coatings is "looking into it," but would not indicate any sort of time-frame. "I know nothing of the technology," the company's CEO stated.

WHS soccer surge has team on top

by James Pote
Wilmington High School varsity soccer coach Dick Scanlon went into this season winning three of his last four games in 1992. He was hoping the end of the season surge would carry over to this year, and it has, with his Wildcats sitting atop the Small School Division of the MVC.

The Wildcats started off 4-1 until the met up with Andover Friday afternoon at the North Intermediate School.

"With the loss of John Lynch (who received the most improved player award at Bentley College) two years ago, we had no scoring punch at the start of last season. We made drastic changes and moved our defensive players up front and from there on it has worked," said Scanlon.

With seniors Dave Dussault and John McKinnon leading the scoring, it seems Scanlon's plan made the defense play much better.

"With the combination of Andy Armata leading the charge at sweeper with Paul Bruno, Garrett Whitmore, Joel Santarelli, Fred Burke and Ryan Swasey they have made us very strong, especially with Steve Smith as the goalie," continued Scanlon.

Unfortunately, those strong efforts were not there against Andover as the Wildcats fell, 5-2 with Dussault and Dan King scoring the goals and Armata playing a great defensive game.

New shirts for golf team

Through the support of local Wilmington businesses, the Wilmington High School varsity golf team has been sporting a new look this season. The C.J. McCarthy company of Wilmington has generously given their support to the team by outfitting the linksters with new golf shirts.

Wilmington's Zeneca Resins has supplied the team with new top-flight golf balls and Maple Meadows Golf Center donated assorted equipment for team use.

These three businesses have demonstrated their willingness to support high school athletes and have taken an active role in the Wilmington School/Business Partnership which was established a few years ago with the goal of bringing the business and educational communities together to further the educational offerings of Wilmington students.

Miceli addresses historic preservation

The Mass. State Legislature has signed a law creating a special state commission to develop a long term strategy on the future of historic preservation in the Commonwealth. State Rep. James R. Miceli (D-Tewksbury/Wilmington) said he was encouraged by the administration's change of heart on the matter.

"Instead of becoming discouraged when the Governor vetoed our first attempt at passing this legislation, we addressed the problems and succeeded in reaching a compromise," said Miceli.

Miceli also added, "Massachusetts is blessed with more historic landmarks than any other state. I hope that by exploring new ways to deal with historical preservation matters, all will benefit...We must do all we can to enhance this important part of our cultural past."

Miceli said the group will examine the involvement of various state agencies in preservation matters as well as several other issues. The panel will be appointed in the near future, and Rep. Miceli is looking forward to hearing its recommendations.

Hockey coach job on the line

by Jeff Nazzaro
Tewksbury High School varsity hockey coach Don Ciampa met with Superintendent of Schools Christine McGrath and Athletic Director Mickey Sullivan Tuesday afternoon for two hours to review the four-year coach's performance, according to Sullivan.

The TMHS athletic director will be interviewing former Redmen coach Bob McCabe this week prior to coming up with a recommendation that will determine Ciampa's fate.

Sullivan would not disclose details of the closed-door meeting, but indicated he would make a recommendation to the superintendent Thursday morning.

Under the Education Reform Bill passed this year, all high school coaches are effectively hired by the superintendent, with input from the athletic director.

"I have to be objective and review both candidates," Sullivan said, referring to Ciampa and Bob McCabe, who held the job on two separate occasions during the 1980's, on one occasion for five years and the other for a single season. McCabe has applied for the position again and will be interviewed sometime over the next two days.

During his second stint as coach McCabe led TMHS' teams to five consecutive MVC Small School Championships.

"I haven't talked to Bob McCabe about hockey in 13 years," Sullivan said.

Ciampa, MVC Coach of the Year for the 1992-93 season, refused comment prior to Tuesday's meeting with Sullivan and McGrath. "There's nothing I can say right now," he stated.

Yet, while most of the major players in this matter all appear to be waiting until Thursday to speak openly about just who will coach TMHS hockey, Tewksbury School Committee member Ed Doherty, who has been involved in various capacities with Tewksbury hockey, both on the youth and varsity levels since 1970, was very vocal in his opinion of Ciampa.

"I particularly am not happy with the performance of coach Ciampa," Doherty said. There's a perception that once you're hired as coach, it's a lifetime position. And it's not.

"I have had people [including former players] come to me with serious complaints [about Ciampa].

We're not reviewing him for any win-loss situation," Doherty stated, adding, "Maybe Don Ciampa is the best of all the applicants. But we have to look into these complaints and validate them. We need kids to have a good experience as a Tewksbury High School hockey players."

Doherty then went on to blast fellow school committee committee member Kevin Anderson for his apparent neutral stance regarding the coaching situation.

"I have no axe to grind with Don Ciampa or the athletic director, but I definitely have an axe to grind with any school committee member who wants nothing to do with [any school department issue]," he said, quoting Anderson as saying "I don't want to get involved."

Anderson could not be reached for comment Monday or Tuesday night, but has voiced his support for Ciampa several times over the past two months.

Doherty, who said he has taken complaints he fielded about Ciampa to Sullivan in the past, concluded his remarks by saying, "I'm very discouraged at the athletic director when you speak about problems and they fall on deaf ears."

The final decision on who will coach Tewksbury High School hockey this winter ultimately lies with McGrath, who will receive Sullivan's recommendation for the position Thursday morning.

Town Crier Editor Rick Cooke contributed to this report.

THE NEW BUDGET BILL

There is a sense of Robin Hood in the new budget bill that Congress has passed. It does indeed take from the rich in the form of higher tax rates and give to the poor expanded earned income tax credits, but some people in the middle may find themselves paying more, too.

Couples earning more than $140,000 in taxable income ($115,000 for singles) will be taxed at a marginal rate of 36 percent; a surtax to 39.6 percent is added on taxable income over $250,000. The Medicare tax is due on all earned income beginning in 1994. The new tax rates are retroactive to January.

For the poor, those earning less than $11,000 a year, a larger earned-income tax credit makes working more worthwhile. The bill will make food stamps easier to get, too.

Taxes on Social Security benefits won't be changed until January 1994. Under a complicated formula, up to 85 percent of benefits can be taxed if the total of adjusted gross income, tax-exempt interest and half of Social Security benefits top $44,000 for couples, $34,000 for singles.

The unbelievable amount of money the oil dealers of New England are spending on radio advertising to keep you from converting to Natural Gas Heat... WHY?

BEFORE YOU MAKE A DECISION, ASK YOURSELF, WHY?

WHY... DID THOUSANDS OF NEW ENGLAND HOME OWNERS CONVERT TO NATURAL GAS LAST YEAR?

WHY... DO 98% OF THE NEW HOMES BUILT HAVE "GAS HEAT" INSTALLED WHERE NATURAL GAS IS AVAILABLE?

WHY... DO REAL ESTATE ADS SPECIFY "GAS HEAT" FOR BOTH NEW AND RESALE HOMES?

WHY... DO MOST SCHOOLS, CHURCHES, FIRE STATIONS AND MUNICIPAL BUILDINGS HAVE GAS HEAT?

WHY... WILL MORE THAN 5,000 NEW CUSTOMERS BE ADDED TO COLONIAL GAS COMPANY'S CUSTOMER BASE THIS YEAR?

WHY... HAVE THE OIL ADS CLAIMED IT COSTS $2,000 TO CONVERT TO GAS HEAT? IN MOST CASES IT COSTS ABOUT $10.00 PER MONTH.

HAVEN'T YOU WAITED LONG ENOUGH TO CONVERT TO NATURAL GAS?

Rabies is here, and it is serious

by Bill Conlon

The rabies virus has haunted mankind for centuries, but lately the disease has been making its presence felt right here, right now, in your neighborhood.

A new strain of raccoon-preferring rabies has been creeping up and down the Atlantic coast, since its discovery in West Virginia. The presence of rabies has been verified three times in Tewksbury so far this year, and three times in Wilmington. It has arrived.

Rabies is a fascinating virus, but then tomados are fascinating as well. Like all viruses, rabies cannot live outside the body and must be transmitted directly, but the virus has evolved a unique way of moving from one individual to the next. The disease attacks the central nervous system, causing an uncontrollable urge to snap and bite, then it moves into the saliva glands, kicking them into full production of infected saliva. After a brief period, the victim becomes a walking hypodermic syringe, spreading the disease by snapping at every living thing in sight.

Dogs and cats, if vaccinated against rabies, must receive a booster shot if attacked by a rabid animal, then kept in isolation for three months. But unvaccinated dogs and cats get absolute quarantine for three months, then another three months isolated from all except one family member.

However, most dogs and cats which are bitten by a proven rabid animal, or even those that turn up with unaccountable wounds, are usually recommended for euthanasia. Down they go, because it's quicker, cheaper, and certain to prevent the onset of rabies.

If your dog or cat has not been vaccinated, it is in danger and so are you. Police in Tewksbury receive about 10 cases per week of raccoons acting strangely, and most of them are shot on sight. How many slip away, or are never detected at all? Plenty. If your little kitty roams the neighborhood at night, and little kitty comes home with a scratch one morning, that's all the warning you'll get. Little kitty might suddenly turn into a monster, infecting one or more human family members with rabies before somebody adds it all up. By then, it might be too late. Rabies can and will kill humans, and a little girl died from rabies recently in New York state.

If left untreated, rabies is fatal to humans, and waiting until little kitty starts foaming at the mouth (an unreliable symptom!) might make it too late to receive the human rabies inoculations.

The law requires pet owners to have their dogs and now their cats vaccinated against the rabies virus. If you forget to keep the shots current, you might get a ticket if you're lucky, you might lose your beloved pet if an unexplained injury turns up, or you may die of rabies yourself if little kitty nips you. The choices are not pretty.

Get your pets vaccinated. You are in serious danger.

School / Business Partnership should be brought back

Dear Larz:

Two years ago, the School Committee, unfortunately abandoned the Wilmington School/Business Partnership Program. It virtually dissolved when board members voted 4-3 to cut out funding for teacher Al Fessenden's position as school liaison to the business community. This extremely worthwhile project has apparently been given some hope of revival thanks to the efforts of committee member Bob Peterson, who continued contact with some of the business people who'd been involved and has been the mainstay of current subcommittee meetings to get it back on track.

The Partnership began in 1989 when local businesses and agencies began collaboration with the Wilmington School System to offer students the tools and motivation to develop a better understanding of the working world. They came into the classrooms and offered their expertise, technology and counseling to students, many of whom would be entering the business world upon graduation from high school and college.

Many, many projects took place under the WSBP. A "wish list" of much needed equipment and materials was compiled by Wilmington teachers and administrators, and submitted to the businesses participating in the partnership. This resulted in donations of filing cabinets, copiers, drafting printing, art supplies, typewriters, calculators, photo equipment, computer paper and discs, tables and chairs, lab and science supplies and many other items to our schools. The high school jazz band performed at Textron, student artwork was displayed at local firms, residents of Wilmington Woods Nursing Home participated in a Read-Aloud Program at the elementary school level, and a Rotary Club "Vocational Day" was held where students met local business people and "shadowed" them during a typical business day to see what it was like. This last activity was especially successful and popular with the students.

In 1991, the WSBP awarded five teacher mini-grants totaling $1,500 for classroom resources. WSBP sponsored teacher in-service workshops and offered two important courses - Lotus 1-2-3 computer and writing skills/public speaking - to both students and business people. This was especially valuable because of the great deal of money and loss of employee hours spent on training and retraining by our local businesses.

This program deserves to be put back on board. As a parent paying athletic user fees and other student costs, I do not understand how any member of the school committee can fail to support a program that incurred no cost to the school system. Donations, funding and non-compensated volunteer time far outweighed the cost of the funded portion that was cut. The shared value to students and the business community cannot even be measured.

Lastly, we should not forget the truly outstanding job Mr. Fessenden did in coordinating and helping to run the entire program from the school end. His enthusiasm and the countless hours he donated to the partnership are a big reason it was so successful. I sincerely hope that if Bob Peterson and his sub-committee are successful in reviving this much needed and many valued program for our students, Mr. Fessenden can somehow be brought back into the partnership. His expertise, dedication and contacts with the business community are invaluable to the program.

Health Board recognizes support

Dear Larz:

The Tewksbury Board of Health takes this opportunity to thank all persons and agencies who took part in or donated items to the town's second annual Health Fair on September 25, 1993. The Health Fair Committee members were very appreciative to those organizations and citizens who took part.

The public that did attend, walked home with some useful information provided by different agencies, offices, and businesses who participated in the program. The public needs to be aware that the screenings provided are not inexpensive to perform. Cash donations by Fleet Bank, New World Bank, and Andover Bank paid for the cost of the custodian and the cholesterol screening. Food donations came in the form of fruit and juice from Demoulas/Market

Basket, Purity Supreme, The Pushcart and Very Fine Products.

Planning for a project this size takes many hours of volunteered time by the Health Fair Committee and many other citizens. The Board of Health would like to extend its thanks to those involved and hopes that next year more volunteers will become involved in this very rewarding and worth while project.

Sincerely,
Thomas G. Carbone, R.S.
Director of Public Health

Some thoughts about teachers

Dear Larz:

Are they over paid for what they do? What do they actually do?

Do they have to spend more time on discipline in the classroom and less on teaching?

Do they stick together to protect the bad with good teachers because they are unionized?

Is it true they are pressured to pass some students or else? Do they fear legal culpability?

I believe teachers should be expected to teach (in a proper environment) and be evaluated regularly. Also to have a merit system.

I believe there should be an upgrading in the curriculum of English to correct linguistic pollution.

I believe teachers and administrators should not have tenure and union. They should have one or the other, not both.

I believe school committees are too political and terms of office should be limited.

I believe sex education does not belong in the schools. It should be the responsibility of parents, not teachers. Let the chips fall as they may!

A committee of students, parents and teachers could be a solution to many problems with open, honest discussions with each other.

Margaret Imbimbo

Shawsheen Tech prepares grads for the real world

If you're looking for a job in today's tough economy, it's nice to have a good reputation precede you. That's what happened to Sharon Smith, now a medical assistant/secretary at Woburn Medical Associates. The reputation that helped her was that of medical training programs for adults and high school students at Shawsheen Tech.

"They have wonderful programs at Shawsheen, for everything," said Barbara Feltquate, Smith's manager at Woburn Medical. "They give students skills based on their desires and needs in the field," she added. Woburn Medical has provided internships for Tech students and evening school students studying medical records and medical coding; they employ graduates of the high school program and the Adult Technical Institute, where Sharon Smith received 10 months of training, graduating in June.

"We love the school," said Feltquate. "We have not had one bad experience. We're even considering someone who has only had 90 hours of training - that's the kind of faith we have in Shawsheen."

Feltquate notes, however, that while Smith's versatility can be attributed partially to the curriculum that included everything from anatomy and physiology to medical terminology to computer skills, part of Smith's appeal is her innate ability and personality.

"She excels in every area we've put her in," said Feltquate. "WordPerfect, transcriptions, lab skills, phlebotomy..."

Back to school

Woburn Medical has now given Smith responsibility for the transcription department. With seven health care providers, Smith spends at least one day each week transcribing information for cardiologists and pulmonologists. Now her employer is sending her back to school for an advanced word processing course, and Smith is delighted to be returning to Shawsheen.

Other grads are working

Smith was one of 15 adults in the medical coding program last year; all were placed in jobs.

"The program has indeed been good training and preparation," said Ann Gustus of Tewksbury, another June graduate of the Shawsheen Adult Technical Institute and now Education Coordinator at Winchester Hospital. With teaching experience but no computer skills, Gustus said the computer portion "was a piece of experience I needed. I felt the medical field was a place I could get work." The program at Shawsheen offered her both.

Lois Valenti and Ruth Maher were on duty when the interview was done. Also at your service are Alice LeDuc and Elaine Conley and Suzanne Maher.

Journeys Unlimited Travel Service, located at 1269 Main Street is one of the oldest established travel agencies in Tewksbury. The agency is owned and managed by Ruthie Maher and staffed by Tewksbury people who care about the community and its residents.

Ruth says "We pride ourselves on individual attention and personal service for each and every client. Like 'CHEERS', everybody knows your name. Most of our clients are our friends and neighbors - and THEN, their friends and neighbors. Word of mouth has proven to be our best form of advertising." At Journeys Unlimited you'll feel right at home while you're going away. The atmosphere in the office is like your kitchen at home. Come in... have a cup of coffee, relax and have fun while you plan your trip!

Whether it's a gambling spree in Las Vegas or Atlantic City, a honeymoon in Hawaii, a wonderful family jaunt to Disney, that long awaited Caribbean cruise, or that dream trip to Europe, Ruth and her staff are ready to assist you with all your travel arrangements.

Need to buy airline tickets? Journeys Unlimited can simplify this process by translating the "fine print" into getting you the lowest available sale fare at no extra cost. Flying smart can save you lots of money. Journeys Unlimited can often recommend a lower fare with less hassle. Cindy Conley, director of Broadway Dance Academy, is reorganizing after having taken the summer off. So much for vacations! Actually, during her "vacation," Cindy did some performing herself, got some new ideas, and started preparing for the 1993-4 season.

Broadway Dance Academy offers classes, for children and adults, in a wide range of dance, exercise and gymnastics programs, including Street Funk, Jazz, Ballet/Pointe, Tap, and Preshcool Creative Movement. Their Broadway Dance students are back at work after their summer vacation.

Agfa group awarded president's medal

Miles Inc., a Fortune 100, research based company with 23,000 employees, gave its highest quality award, The President's Gold Medal, to an employee team from its Agfa Division Operations Group in Wilmington, MA.

The announcement was made August 27 during the annual President's Achievement Awards (PAA), which is the heart of recognition efforts within Miles' Quality Improvement Process.

The winning team, consisting of eight manufacturing employees from the printed circuit board area, was among dozens of teams and hundreds of employees nationwide who vied for one of several awards given by Miles at its PAA ceremonies.

The Wilmington team, known as the "Wet Mask," was selected by its peers for successful efforts in chemical reduction efficiency and improved customer satisfaction. Team members are Dave Bedard of Methuen, Mark Bowdidge, Joe Caisie, Vin Fiorilla, Gary Frizzell, Jesus Noda, Diane Willette and Ed Wright.

The "Wet Masks" is one of 35 teams within the Operations group in Wilmington who have been extremely successful in utilizing the Quality Improvement Process (QIP) as a framework for their overall strategies in making improvements in manufacturing, delivery and other critical operational functions. The principles of QIP are taught in workshops given across Agfa Division throughout the year.

"We are grateful to the 'Wet Masks' for representing Agfa so well at the President's Achievement Awards," says Dick Ramsden, Director of Group Plant Operations. "It shows that of Miles 23,000 employees, ours at Agfa are among the best in the Quality Improvement Process."

Hugh's pumpkin disqualified! It was cooked.

The October 12, 1983 edition of the Town Crier of Wilmington noted that:

Five cars had turned over on the Burlington Avenue bridge during the month. On Monday afternoon two cars flipped in less than an hour. No injuries resulted.

Abbott Supply Company of Lexington purchased the former Mytron Building on Middlesex Avenue.

Hugh Wiberg's 425 1/2 pound pumpkin died an early death. It never made it to the national pumpkin contest in Buffalo. It was on display at the Topsfield Fair on a rotating platform. The week over a hot motor was enough to cook a section of the orange monster. When Hugh took it home and cut it apart, he harvested 550 seeds. The pumpkin that won in Buffalo weighed 415 pounds. Hugh had grown the biggest pumpkin in eastern U.S. but couldn't get it to the national contest.

Heather Kelley, Mark Ware, Dave Feyler, Derek Bacon, Dan Cadigan, Bill Burns and Richard Whitney were pictured with their projects on display at open house at the North Intermediate School. For the previous two weeks, students had been studying whales.

George Allan of Corey Avenue was awarded the prestigious Dexter Baxter Memorial Medal, by the New England Water Works Association.

Metropolitan Life would repair Ames Pond Dam

The October 12, 1983 edition of the Town Crier of Tewksbury noted that:

Although there is a question of who legally owns the Ames Pond Dam in North Tewksbury, Michael Spiedel of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. assured selectmen that the firm will fund repairs to the dam structure and rebuild a concrete spillway.

Selectmen were discussing the possibility of discouraging door to door trick or treating on Halloween in view of several tainted Tylenol episodes in Chicago and other copy cat incidents.

The Feathers 'n Fur 4-H Club was scheduled to hold a bake sale at Oakdale Mall. Proceeds would help defray costs of field trips, show entries and trophies.

A five member panel consisting of three selectmen and two housing authority members unanimously appointed Louise Gearty to fill the post of her late father, Robert Flucker on the housing authority.

Mark Stemmler was pictured as he reacted after scoring the game winning goal in last week's Merrimack Valley Conference soccer victory over Wilmington.

West Intermediate 8th grade to visit Ellis Island

Each West Intermediate staff member is involved in educational workshops this week. A variety of topics have been decided upon and the range of material and ideas continue work begun last year as well as keeping current on the immediate curriculum and educational needs. Four individual workshops on 1) Cooperative Inclusion Teaching; 2) Integration of the Science/health Curriculum; 3) Education Reform Act and, 4) Interdisciplinary Units, will be conducted.

One of the interdisciplinary units has the eighth grade focusing upon immigration. As a highlight, students will be traveling to New York City Friday, Oct. 22 to visit Ellis Island. A full day is planned after leaving Wilmington at 5:45 a.m., students will arrive at the South Street Seaport to view a variety of vessels and enjoy lunch before crossing the harbor to the historic and recently restored island. At Ellis Island Museum, a tour and historical presentation sponsored by NYNEX will take place. The students will end the day viewing the city from the Empire State Building. This experience is greatly anticipated by the eighth graders.

Also, this week members of the sixth grade team will be visiting the Museum of Science on workshop day to attend a pre-field trip planning session. That session will provide materials and topics to be shared with the students prior to and during their upcoming field trip.

Senior lunch program back in service

The 1993-94 senior lunch program is back in service. Seniors are reminded that they must call in their reservation to the Drop-In Center the day before they plan to take part. Reservations will be taken either by the day, or weekly. They may also be cancelled when one is unable to attend.

The lunch program for in school is held at Wilmington High School at 12:15 p.m. each day that school is in session. The lunch menu this year for in-school is the same as the lunch that appears "Wilmington Senior Lunch." The center also has soup and sandwich or salad available. No butter or salt is added to the recipes and light mayonnaise and salad oil are used.

Everything is made fresh daily at the high school. It's a great opportunity to share some lunch and conversation with other bright, cheery, active members of the senior citizens and the price is right, lunch including coffee and dessert is $1.00.

The meals on wheels program is prepared at the North Intermediate School, again by school food service.

The determination for eligibility to receive meals on wheels is done through Mrs. Edith Cunningham at the Drop-in Center. On the days when school is closed, Minuteman Home Care provides the lunches, specifically during school vacations or holidays. It is important to eat a nutritious meal each day, so those who feel they qualify should call 657-7595 or 658-2258.

Emblem Club assists in blood drive

Members of Tewksbury/ Wilmington Emblem Club #381 assisted Elks Lodge #2070 during the recent annual blood drive. Members assisted in the serving of meals to donors working with Dick Parent and other volunteers from the local senior center.

Those assisting included Betty Baxter, Sue Fantini, Nancy Griswold, Mary DiBella, Joyce Gigliotti and Grace Fitzgerald.

Each donor was served homestyle Italian spaghetti prepared by the Elks, Italian bread and butter, coffee or a cold drink.

A special thanks is offered to the volunteers for their time, effort, and concern in seeing that these blood donors were all cared for.

Childbirth refresher course

For parents who are expecting their next child, Winchester Hospital offers a two hour Refresher Class. The workshop includes a review of the birth process and current practices in maternity care. ## Roots of the Baldwin Apple

by Capt. Larz Neilson
The ancient Middlesex Canal was designed to improve transportation in Eastern Massachusetts, from New Hampshire to Boston. It was the first transportation canal in the United States, and in 1967 it was designated as the first National Historical Engineering Landmark.

Wilmington occupies a large part of the former canal, with many miles of water, four locks, and several aqueducts, among which is one over the Shawsheen River, at the Billerica/Wilmington line.

An English surveyor, William Weston, who had been working in Pennsylvania, was hired to do the surveying. While working near the present Butters Row, in Wilmington he noticed a woodpecker at work on an apple tree.

The tree was located near the homes of three members of the Butters family, and the apple was of excellent quality.

Two men, Major Loami Baldwin and William Thompson grafted on their farm trees in No. Woburn, with "slips" from the apple tree. Baldwin had (if memory is correct) 143 acres, off Elm Street and the Thompson family possessed more. There is today a Thompson Memorial Library, and the birthplace of Benjamin Thompson (Count Rumford) to be noted along Elm Street.

The apples from the Thompson farms became known as "Thompson Apples." Those from the farm of Major Baldwin became known as "Baldwin Apples." The latter name prevailed, and the apple is so known today.

Gone!

an 80 lb pumpkin

by Capt. Larz Neilson
Hugh Wiberg of Wilmington is the man who began the pumpkin growing game in Massachusetts. It started over 20 years ago and has spread to other states since.

Big Pumpkins - Monster Pumpkins. That is where the fun starts.

Persons who happened to watch the Deerfield Fair, on TV last weekend had a glimpse of Hugh. He was not a contestant. He was simply the man who was known as Mr. Pumpkin, and who started the festivities.

It was about 20 years ago that Hugh started his game. The first ones were 20 or 30 pounds, but soon he was doing 100 and multi-hundred pounders.

This paper started to report, and publish pictures.

Hugh is in a different game today, but he is still needed to "open" a pumpkin exhibit.

This year he has published a book called "Hand-Feeding Wild Birds" with pictures of birds, eating seeds out of the palm of his hand. They sit on his thumb, or other finger.

Hugh's friends, however, are still pumpkin-minded. There were dozens of pumpkins on display on doorsteps during the past week.

On the front door steps of four homes, of Wilmington's Frederick Drive, last weekend, were four "Wiberg" pumpkins, proudly exhibited. The last house, that of George Quinn, had number four.

But, Monday morning there was only one left. Three of the pumpkins were missing. Ask George. His was an 80 pounder!

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month

by Jeff Nazzaro

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, with October 19 National Mammography Day. This is "a good time to review when you should have a mammogram," reports Richard S. Hollis, M.D., President of The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

"A mammogram is an X-ray of the breast used by doctors to detect breast cancer early," October 18 Woman's Health report states. This procedure can detect small cancers up to two years before a doctor's or self examination. The report also stresses the importance of monthly breast self-examinations.

"Since the risk of breast cancer increases with age, all women who have reached middle age should add mammograms to a health routine that includes monthly breast self-exams and annual physician breast exams," Hollis states.

In conjunction with National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Breast Cancer Initiative launched a campaign targeted at increasing breast cancer awareness in the state, primarily among uninsured women.

In Massachusetts alone, there were 32,362 new cases of breast cancer diagnosed in women during the seven year period between 1982 and 1989, making it the leading cancer among women in the state for those years, according to the Department of Public Health.

To obtain more information, single, free copies of "Mammography" are available by sending a stamped, self-addressed, business-size envelope along with the name of the booklet - "Mammography" - to: The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, Resource Center, 409 12th Street, SW, Washington, DC 20024.

"Adopt a Woman" offers free mammograms

The Eastern Middlesex Association of Realtors and the American Cancer Society are planning the second annual "Adopt a Woman" free mammography screening program. The Melrose-Wakefield Hospital, Lahey Clinic and Winchester Hospital are offering free mammograms to women who are under insured or non insured.

The "Adopt a Woman" program is a unique community service project as a means of promoting increased awareness among women of the value of early detection of breast cancer. The number of mammograms offered will be limited. As a result, participants will be scheduled on a first come, first served basis.

Women who meet the program's pre-established screening criteria and sign a medical release form will be scheduled for the screening which will be held starting October 23, 1993.

Woman aged 35 and over who wish to have their eligibility for the "Adopt a Woman" free screening validated, must call the Eastern Middlesex Association of Realtors Saturday, Oct. 9 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The entire cost of the screening is being supported by the membership of the Eastern Middlesex Association of Realtors, and the following participants who are certified by the American College of Radiology:

Healthimage, 830 Main St., Melrose, MA 02176; Lahey Clinic, Breast Imaging Department, 41 Mall Rd., Burlington, MA 01803; Winchester Hospital, 41 Highland Ave., Winchester, MA 01890; Winchester Imaging Center, Baldwin Park II, 7 Alfred St., Woburn, MA 01801; Winchester Mammography and Ultrasound Center, 955 Main St., Winchester, MA 01890.

As an adjunct service of the program, Denise Costello, R.N. and Beverly Bowker, M.D. will offer a breast self examination training session for all participants in the "Adopt a Woman" program at Winchester Hospital Breast Care Center Wed., November 10, from 1 to 2 p.m.

Supporters of participating walkers will raise invaluable resources and public awareness to assist battered and at risk women and their children, while making possible educational programs that are so critical in the movement to stop the cycle of family violence.

Local business lends an ear to cancer research

by Jeff Nazzaro

In the spirit of National Breast Cancer Awareness Month (October) Jennifer Braisted, owner of Earring Dynamics, at 540 Main St. in Tewksbury has come up with a campaign to help in the fight against breast cancer.

The "Lend an Ear Campaign", according to Braisted, will be donating $1 from select $3 pairs of earrings to the American Cancer Society to be used for breast cancer awareness and education. The earrings will be sold through a network of American Cancer Society volunteers, much the same way other charities sell candy bars, for instance.

"It's taken off in strides already," said Braisted, who is making the "Lend an Ear" campaign an on-going affair and possibly national. "This is going to go on and on and hopefully raise a million dollars for breast cancer."

In addition to the jewelry itself, each earring box comes with informational literature concerning breast cancer.

"That's where education and awareness comes in," through "Lend an Ear." "The response has been excellent so far," she said.

"People Helping People" support group

Cancer patients and their families cope with many concerns and stresses. "People Helping People" is a support group offered at Winchester Hospital which addresses their concerns. The group brings together patients and their families and friends with a health care professional who can give support and encouragement.

Patients who attend the meeting want to hear and talk to other people who have been through the same experience. We try to help them deal with their emotions. The group is a combination of self-help, education and counseling.

People Helping People will meet October 13 from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at Winchester Hospital and continues to meet the second Wednesday of every month.

Call (617) 756-2634 for more information.

Rep. Miceli on fixed and limited income dentistry

State Rep. James R. Miceli (D-Tewksbury/Wilmington) has announced the Mass. Dental Society has implemented a private program that provides dental care to families on fixed or limited incomes. Approximately 2,000 people of all ages have already taken advantage of the program in its early stages.

The plan, termed "Dentistry for All," provides most services at more than 50 percent below the regular cost for individuals without insurance or Medicaid coverage.

"Dental care is often placed at the bottom of the list of priorities for families facing difficult financial choices," Miceli said. "This proposal provides services for those who could not otherwise afford coverage."

For more information, potential applicants should contact the Mass. Dental Society at 1-800-342-8747.

All Around Travel Update

by Peggy Lee

TRAVELING SOLO

There is a big difference between traveling alone and being lonely when you travel. In fact, vacationing without a traveling partner can be a most satisfying and highly sociable experience. A great way to accomplish this is to join a get-away group organized around an activity or theme you are interested in. Many such excursions involve some type of physical activity, such as bicycling, cross-country skiing, walking, or horseback riding. Others are planned around such diverse themes as discount shopping, gourmet cooking, or trips to outstanding European opera houses. Whatever the central activity, you are almost certain to find a group of congenial travel companions happy to share a common interest and eager to participate in a memorable trip.

We can help meet the needs of travelers of all kinds here at ALL AROUND TRAVEL. Whether you are traveling on your own, or with family or friends, a little professional planning before hand can mean the difference between a great trip and an OK one. Let us show you how much fun travel can be - stop in and see us at 203 Jefferson Rd., N. Wilmington (Rt. 62), the next time you get the urge to get up and go. We're open Mon-Fri 9-5 and after hours by appointment. Call us when you need us at 658-2313.

Tech homecoming promises gala events

A rally in the afternoon and dance in the evening will kick off festivities for Homecoming Weekend at Shawsheen Tech October 8 and 9.

The rally takes place Friday afternoon with the finalists for Homecoming king and queen announced. The king, queen and court will then preside over all activities, beginning with the Homecoming Dance at the school Friday from 7 to 10 with music by a disc jockey, and continuing through Saturday's football game with Tyngsboro starting at 1:30 p.m.

This format is a new one, or rather a return to an old one, noted Ron Fusco, one of the class advisors organizing the events of the weekend. "We're renewing old traditions this year," said Fusco. "Instead of electing the queen and king on Saturday, we're choosing them earlier so they can reign over the weekend." Another change is moving the dance from Saturday to Friday.

Nominations for queen and king are being taken until October 4; students from all grades will vote their choices October 7 and hear the results at the Friday rally.

FIRE INFO FOR KIDS

QUESTION: Do you have any information for children to know in case of a home fire?

ANSWER: Children should be taught that in case of fire, try to get everyone out of the house FIRST, then notify the fire department. Don't keep it a secret. Smoke contains poisonous gases and can kill you if you breathe it. Keep as low as possible because smoke rises and works its way downward in a room. Always keep your bedroom door closed when you sleep. It is the best defense against a spreading fire. If your clothes catch fire, do not run. Wrap yourself in a blanket or rug or drop to the floor and roll to smother the flames.

CHILDREN should be taught what to do in case of a home fire. It could save lives.

WHS football Wildcats respectable in defeat, 24-6

by Jeff Nazzaro
At halftime at Lowell High's Cawley Stadium Friday night, while the WHS band played Paul Simon's "Late in the Evening," the Wildcats must have felt as if it already were, being outgained in total yardage 218-12, with Lowell racking up as many first downs as Wilmington had yards in the first 24 minutes.

But after the band finished a rendition of Peter Gabriel's "In Your Eyes" and the Cats took the grid for the second half, it was clear to everyone's eyes that despite once again being over-matched by a Division II contender, Gerry's kids refused to quit.

"The kids are plugging for us," first-year WHS football coach Gerry Sullivan said. "They're giving 100% and that's all we can ask."

The game at Cawley marked a homecoming for Sullivan, who played home games for the University of Lowell at the stadium under now-Lowell High coach Dennis Scannell.

Despite the wide margin in total yards, Wilmington trailed by only a point, 7-6, after the first quarter.

Lowell scored on the game's opening drive, a 67-yard march capped by a 37-yard run by junior tailback Brian Cote, who gained 118 yards for the game. Twice in the series, Wilmington apparently had the Raiders stopped; but a Wildcat penalty sustained the drive and then Cote broke free on fourth and four and scored. The point-after made it 7-0, Lowell.

Wilmington wasted no time, however, in getting six of those points back. Bryon Burke took the ensuing kickoff and never looked back, scampering 75 yards for the Wildcats only score of the game, with the extra-point kick being missed.

Wilmington's defense then dug-in, forcing and recovering a fumble at their own 20 before punting away from the 19. Lowell drove back deep into Wilmington territory, but settled for a field goal after a tough stand by the Cats inside the five and a touchdown-negating penalty against Lowell called for an ineligible receiver downfield.

But another failed offensive series for Wilmington gave Lowell good field position, of which they took advantage, completing a 44-yard drive with a 19-yard touchdown pass. The kick made it 17-6, Lowell, with 3:02 left in the half.

Wilmington still had a chance to get back in it before halftime. A kickoff return to midfield by junior fullback Steve O'Neil gave the Cats good field position.

The Wildcats missed another golden opportunity when they failed to recover a forced fumble on the ensuing punt return. But Wilmington still had life, as the defense thwarted Lowell's potent offense with help from an illegal procedure call that brought up a fourth and six from their own 39.

With Lowell kicking, freshman Shane Warford broke in from the left side, blocking the punt at Lowell's 21 yard line with :52 to play in the half.

Senior tailback Keith Pearlstein then gained three yards on a draw. The next play saw a near touchdown completion from senior quarterback Brian Tildsley to tight end Steve Ballou tipped away at the goal line. The next play was another pass intended for Ballou, but this one was tipped and intercepted. Lowell then ran out the half from their own two, and Wilmington hit the locker room down 11.

In the second half, showing more heart than hope, the Wildcats defense allowed zero points. Lowell scored the only touchdown of the half on a 54-yard interception return.

Cornerback Greg Johnson and Ballou demonstrated an effective pass rush, and when Lowell reverted back to the run, Burke prevented a big-gainer with a gutsy open-field tackle. Then, on third and two, Johnson penetrated and threw Cote for a six-yard loss, forcing the Raiders to kick.

As time ran out in the game, it became obvious the tired Cats were playing for pride throughout Lowell's last possession. Here, senior nose guard Eric Robbins came up big, showing good pursuit and then making a big hit for a 5-yard loss. Burke and senior co-captain Dave Fleming, along with the rest of the defense, played aggressively right up to the final whistle.

The offense never got going for coach Sullivan, however, despite a third consecutive game of "experimenting on offense."

"The defense played tough again and the offense sputtered again," Sullivan said, chalking up the loss to "Another learning stage" in preparation for the "tough task [this] week with Billerica coming to town."

Wilmington Youth Hockey

Mite A's roll to victories

Wilmington 8
Junior Warriors 2

The Wilmington Mite A' Youth Hockey team began the year in fine style with an exhibition game against the Valley League Junior Warriors.

The Wildcats started fast and scored on the first shift with fine passing from Anthony Tomasi and David Velardo setting up Matt Trimarchi for the goal. The Mite A's continued the pressure, and with 7:16 left in the first period, Thomas Irwin connected on a quick shot to make the score 2-0.

At 4:06, Joseph Luciano scored on a breakaway to make the score 3-0. As the second period started, the Junior Warriors picked up the pace and scored at 11:16 and at 7:33 to make the score 3-2.

The Wildcats regrouped and scored two more goals before the end of the period to make the score 5-2. Anthony Tomasi scored with an assist from Matt Trimarchi and Joseph Luciano scored his second goal assisted by Andy Berian.

In the third period the Junior Warriors pressed again, and great plays by Greg Buck, Danny Zuccaro, Stephen O'Dea and Matt Proter on defense and Paul Sferazza in goal kept the Junior Warriors from scoring.

The Wildcats then added two more goals and Joseph Luciano completed the hat trick assisted by Danny Liberty and James O'Neil had an unassisted goal.

Wildcats 5 Woburn 2

The Wildcats continued their fine play in the first Valley League game against Woburn. The game was scoreless until 8:52 left in the first period when Woburn scored.

One minute later, Wilmington tied the game on nice passing from Joseph Luciano setting up Anthony Tomasi for the score. With 2:51 left in the first period, Greg Buck moved in from the right defense and scored on a high shot to the far corner, with Danny Zuccaro and David Velardo assisting. Within 20 seconds, Wilmington increased its lead to 3-1, again on good passing.

Anthony Tomasi found David Velardo in the slot who fired a quick shot to beat the goalie.

Thomas Irwin worked hard to score an unassisted goal with 43 seconds left in the first period. In the third period the Wildcats increased their lead to 5-1 with Greg Buck sending Anthony Tomasi in alone for the score.

Wilmington playing great defense again, lead by Stephen O'Dea, Greg Buck, Matt Porter and Danny Zuccaro. Paul Sferazza again played a great game in goal. T.J. Duggan also played a good game on right wing.

Squirt C's drop tough contest

by James Pote

Wilmington Youth Hockey has kicked off another season, as the Squirt C team lost a close contest in the parity round to Amesbury.

In the first period, Ryan Thibodeau scored an unassisted goal to have the Wildcats trail 2-1.

After Amesbury took a two goal lead, Chris Capozzi came back with his unassisted goal to make it 3-2 before Amesbury tacked on another one.

Wilmington received great efforts from goalie John Dell'Anno, who came up with some big saves, while Colin Sheehan and Chuck Osgood also played excellent games.

'Snowplow Sam' at Ristuccia

While older kids are searching the globe for Carmen SanDiego, pre-school age children need look no further than Wilmington's own Ristuccia Expo Center to find "Snowplow Sam."

"Snowplow Sam", a big, fuzzy polar bear who loves to skate, is the designated mascot for a program developed by the United States Figure Skating Association (USFSA) to teach very young children skating fundamentals with the emphasis on "fun." The Wilmington Figure Skating Club (WFSC) will sponsor the program and provide a qualified staff experienced in working with "toddler" groups.

Susan Fallon, a WFSC professional instructor (and mother of a toddler herself) will once again direct the program. With the proper mix of props and play acting, children who would otherwise be apprehensive about getting on the ice surface are made to feel secure and comfortable. "Snowplow Sam" rewards the skaters with decorative patches and Certificates of Achievement as they progress from "forward swizzles" to "back wiggles" and finally, the all important "Snowplow Stop."

Skaters will be required to have single blade ice skates and must wear a helmet. A bicycle helmet is acceptable. No double bladed skates or devices which strap on to boots or sneakers will be permitted. Safe skating begins with proper equipment.

Four weekly sessions will be held beginning Tues., Oct. 12 and Thurs., Oct. 14. A morning (9:30 to 10:30) and afternoon (1-2) class will meet each of those days and for the next 10 weeks. Registration forms will be available at the Ristuccia Expo Center, 190 Main St., in Wilmington weekdays from 3:15 to 6 p.m. and Saturdays 1 to 3 p.m. The complete cost for a 10 lesson program is $100. Space is limited.

Developing preliminary coordination and the strength necessary to maneuver on skates prepares these youngsters for the Club's more comprehensive basic skills badge program. "Snowplow Sam" sessions will run continuously throughout the WFSC's skating year. For additional information, please call the club phone at 508-694-9650 or the program director at 508-851-3275, or write PO Box 219, Wilmington, MA 01887.

Navajo 36 Sioux 18
Jason Wagstaff scored on a 50 yard touchdown return and again from the four yard line, but that and Eric Nickerson's six yard touchdown run weren't enough to beat the undefeated Navajo.

Ryan Mackey scored on a 67 yard Navajo sweep and a 19 yard run. Pat Flaherty blasted over the goal line from the four yard line. Then Jeff DiPrimo powered in from the one yard line.

A battle of the offensive lines was waged by Jim Gallato and Ryan Davoren of the Sioux and Mark Shea and Derek Bent for the Navajo. Outstanding strength on defense by Christopher Power of the Navajo and by Scott Senesi and Jared Sharifi of the Sioux.

Junior League
Apache Jr. 12 Cherokee Jr. 7
Cherokee John Drinkwater scored on a 70 yard run, but the Apache countered with Stephen Kasprzak's touchdown on a 75 yard fumble recovery. Kasprzak's second touchdown, from the 30 yard line, proved to be the difference in this exciting contest.

Matt Carlson and Chris LaVita sparked the Apache offense, while Dennis Keohane and Shaun Fernandes held on defense. Alex

Marcin and Michael Gentile played an outstanding game for the Cherokee.

Navajo Jr. 19 Sioux Jr. 7
Navajo workhorse Matt McGinnis intercepted two Sioux passes and ran them both back for touchdowns. Jason DiPrimo also scored and Junior Hinton added an extra point behind the strong line of Jim Hamilton, Kevin Gordon and Dave Burrows.

Kyle Hamilton scored the Sioux's only touchdown, while Danny Wandell and Bryan Donoghue were strong on defense.

Cycle for Seals route covers 515 miles

Tom Kriner's long-distance effort on a bicycle will pay off for those who need it most.

Tony Lucacio of Century 21 Merrimack Valley Homes sponsored Century 21 colleague Kriner in his recent 515 mile bicycle trek to raise funds and awareness for people with disabilities.

Kriner, an Automation Consultant with Century 21 of Northeast, Inc., began his 1993 pilgrimage for Easter Seals in Augusta, Maine Saturday, September 18 and continued his ride through Montpelier, Vermont and Concord, New Hampshire and concluded his fundraising venture in Burlington, Mass. on Friday, October 24.

Century 21 Merrimack Valley Homes played an active role in the "Cycle for Seals" campaign by contributing to the charity event, and by greeting Kriner upon his arrival at the 20 Mall Road finish line.

"This year's ride for our friends at Easter Seals was a great success. Without the encouragement of others I would not have been able to accomplish the long-distance" Kriner remarked. "The brokers and Easter Seals children who met me at the finish line just reinforced what a great cause I was peddling for," the cyclist said.

In 1992 "Cycle for Seals, which spanned 460 miles from Buffalo to Boston, raised more than $12,000 for local residents and community programs that rely on Easter Seals funding. After the generous donations from local Century 21 offices are tallied, the 1993 bike campaign is expected to raise thousands for local disabled people and community programs.

During the 1992-93 fundraising year, Century 21 offices throughout Mass., Maine, N.H. and Vermont collected more than $765,000 for local Easter Seals.

Katarina goes to St. Michael's College

A Nice Beginning

By PHYLLIS NISSEN

"Katarina's parents are so brave," says Valerie Laabs, of Reading. "Basically, they're sending a 17-year-old girl out on her own to make her fortune. They haven't met us. They just have to have a lot of trust - and they're coming from a country where their whole economy and social system isn't really built on trust."

Thanks to the outstanding response of Middlesex East readers to her story (Middlesex East Supplement, June 30, 1993), Katarina Matasova - Reading High's 1992-93 foreign exchange student from Slovakia - is back in town. Thanks to the generosity of friends and family from both her high schools and churches, as well as local towns from Reading to Giraltovec, "Katka" has just begun her freshman year at St. Michael's College in Winooski Park, Colchester, Vermont.

Having spent the summer working in her family's produce business from dawn to well past dusk and translating documents for a lawyer in her spare time, Matasova learned at the last minute that enough money had been raised - and enough paperwork completed - on both sides of the Atlantic for her to begin college in America.

At the very end of August, she returned to Reading to spend a few days with the Laabs, the host family she first met a year ago; and at almost the same moment, sped off with them to matriculate in Vermont.

Although the situation is exciting, although Matasova is passionate and determined, although the entire Laabs family - Valerie, Dennis, Gretchen, and Christopher - are "enamored of her," nothing has been easy.

"The challenges to her coming here increased all summer," says her second dad, Dennis Laabs. "The good news is she was accepted by St. Michael's and her parents were able to get money wired to her bank account, and everything was golden."

For a while. Slovakia is a new country, having separated from Czechoslovakia in January.

During the summer, Katarina had to make more than one five-hour-trip to the capital to fill out seemingly endless paperwork, a next-to-impossible task in a country where some government offices close without warning for entire days at a time.

The Slovakian currency continues to be devalued at the same time that restrictions on how much may be converted to dollars increase.

And along with the recession come constant worries about the survival of small businesses. The Matasovas - father, mother, Katarina, her younger brother, their close extended family - run a small business. They will not turn their backs on the customers who can no longer afford

Matasova is thrilled to be back ... and scared.

"The social and political situations in my country were awful," she says. "The political parties are always fighting among each other and they are not able to establish normal reform. This, of course, causes instability in our economies and in August, we already had 10 percent deflation of our currency, the crown. The next 10 percent deflation is expected at the end of this year. It means that prices will go up again.

"This unhappy situation is also reflected in the minds of the people," she continues. "Criminality is much higher than before ... The prices in all the towns are much higher and it's hard to grow some food ... The transition from socialism to capitalism is too shocking for simple people."

During her summer "holiday," the apple-picking season began, and Matasova worked from 6 a.m. to 11:30 p.m.

"I didn't even have time for my friends," she says. "But I was happy to work for my dad because I know that when I work for him, I work also for myself."

"My dad's working very hard. He changed the most of all since I left Slovakia. He became very emaciated with sagged cheeks ... This is not easy and clean work that he does. I would rather stay at home and help him if I could but I received the biggest chance of my life, to study in an American college - and I have to go for it."

Matasova will be back in Reading for Thanksgiving, and then for Christmas.

Fifth Annual Boston Jimmy Fund Walk

A record $1 million will be raised Sunday, October 10 by an estimated 5,000 participants in the Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk, the annual 26.2 mile walk along the historic Boston Marathon course. This Walk was the most successful first-time Jimmy Fund event ever, raising $180,000 in 1989. In just four years, walkers have contributed $1.7 million to cancer research and treatment program at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

This event is unique in that most participants walk to raise money for the Jimmy Fund because they know someone who has cancer, or who has been treated for cancer. Some walkers have been treated for cancer themselves. Knowing that the dollars raised by the Walk are used to fund research projects, support treatment programs and educate cancer specialists encourages walkers in their fund-raising efforts. The Walk requires a $100 minimum donation from each participant; however, the average amount raised by each walker in 1992 was $220.

Rain or shine, all pre-registered walkers who raise the minimum donation of $100 will be given a T-shirt, fanny pack and an official bib number at the Hopkinton Town Green starting line at 7 a.m. For those who choose not to walk the full 26.2-mile marathon route, a "half-marathon" is offered for the first time this year. Walkers will join in the fun for the final 13.1 miles beginning at 11 a.m. at Wellesley High School. Dana-Farber Cancer Institute patients and their families also participate in this special event by walking three miles from the Institute to the finish line, where they're met by cheering spectators and congratulated for their tremendous courage and determination.

Registration is $10 and an additional $100 in pledges is required. Please call the Jimmy Fund at (617) 632-3300 for more information.

The following is a partial list of pre-registered walkers from this area.

What this world is coming to

WHAT THIS WORLD IS COMING TO IS ALREADY HERE ... Well, not really "here," but close enough, in Lexington where the following wedding announcement appears in a local paper:

"Alisha Rael Bloom and Kevin Garth Flush were married on July 11, 1993, at Stouffer Bedford Glen Hotel. The Reverend Preston Hannibal of Harvard University's Memorial Church conducted the ceremony.

"Alisha is the daughter of Buzz and Gloria Bloom of Lexington. She was graduated from Lexington High School in 1989 and received an A.B. in economics from Harvard College in 1993. She will start working in September as a research assistant for National Economics Research Associates in Los Angeles.

"Kevin is the son of Gavin and Ethne Flusk of Johannesburg, South Africa. He was graduated from Harvard College with an A.B. in psychology in 1991. He will be starting a Ph.D. program in clinical psychology at the University of Southern California in the fall.

"Kevin and Alisha were previously married in a civil ceremony on March 1 at Cambridge City Hall.

"The couple has chosen to share the surname Thomas."

All-You-Can-Eat Pasta Feast

Woburn Middlesex Lions are hosting the Third Annual All-You-Can-Eat Pasta Feast on Friday, October 22. It will be held at the Woburn Lodge of Elks Hall at 295 Washington Street in Woburn.

Dinner will be served from 5 to 9 p.m. and will consist of ziti and meatballs, salad, Italian bread and butter, beverage and dessert. All proceeds will benefit eye research and Hospice Inc.

NORTH READING ANNOUNCES SURPRISE MARATHON - By late summer, the North Reading Town Meeting which was scheduled to convene on October 4th looked to be the lengthiest one in years, according to the North Reading "Transcript" which terms it a marathon.

More than 30 warrant articles cover citizen petitions, the construction of a treatment plant for the railroad bed pumping station, the transformation of the Hillview Commission into an elected town board, and the repealing of the town's wetland protection bylaw.

The Town Administrator has submitted articles which include littering bylaw changes for unsolicited packages left on mailboxes and an amendment to the town's junk car bylaw. The Fire Department has proposed that it - rather than the Board of Selectmen - assign building numbers. The Historic District Study Committee has suggested that the necessary provisions of state law be accepted so that the "Center Village Historic District" can be accepted in the center of town.

IF IT'S THURSDAY AND YOU'RE IN WAKEFIELD, DRY UP - The Wakefield Board of Selectmen has given Lanai Island three months to decrease the number of Thursday night protective custody incidents emanating from that establishment.

Because of a letter from the state Alcohol and Beverage Commission noting that four people convicted of drunk driving within six months had been served at the restaurant, Wakefield Selectmen have told those in charge to include Thursday night in their police officer detail schedule.

According to Wakefield Police Chief Stephen Doherty who supplied records that show Thursday nights as more problematic than Saturday nights, people under the influence do not always tell the truth about where they came from or what they had to drink.

A LITTLE NIGHT WORK PROVES TOO MUCH - That was the first reaction anyway to the improvements being made to Woburn's downtown roads and sidewalks, improvements which were supposed to cause only a little inconvenience ... but that's not the big story in Woburn where it has been discovered to the amazement of the mayor and Water and Fire Department officials - and luckily not by accident - that five fire hydrants have been in service since 1895.

The 98-year-old hydrants are being replaced by more modern hydrants with automatic shut-offs.

STONEHAM OFFICIALS WILL RECEIVE HEALTH BENEFITS ... in spite of a second attempt by Selectman Jack Mahoney to eliminate health insurance benefits for elected officials.

"About The Towns" covers recent events in the 13-town Middlesex East area. Because Middlesex East deadlines are early, please check the front sections of this paper for up-to-date information about your city or town. We also welcome original material - please send it to Phyllis Nissen, "About The Towns," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867.

grams at over two dozen early childhood education programs in Eastern Massachusetts and Southern New Hampshire. He has recorded two children's cassettes, "The Purple Fish" and "That's My Job, I'm a Kid!" and is currently working on a third.

A nice beginning From S-1

Members of Woburn's Lutheran church and some of her Reading High teachers have given Matasova support. St. Michael's has been instrumental in making her college education possible, guaranteeing her on-campus employment and a dorm room, and awarding her a crucial, partial scholarship.

But between her full schedule of academic studies and current job as a receptionist in the admissions office, Matasova is already worrying ahead to March when her next tuition installments are due.

"Quite simply, we have to come up with another $4,000 by March," says Dennis. "The neat thing is that the college has really bought into helping her."

"When we started this whole thing," says Valerie, "I told Katarina that we have to believe that somehow it will all work out. We have to have faith."

"If we don't believe it, nobody else will either," says Dennis. "As another indicator of what's going on, because they see no other options for themselves, many of Katarina's classmates have accepted offers of marriage right out of high school - and these are students from the highest academic secondary school, the 'gymnasium.'"

"Imagine graduating from Phillips Academy and getting married right away because there are no other options."

"Our whole family is living in the spirit of American college," writes Matasova, in a letter from Giraltovec which arrived in Reading after her return. "You know how it's going: my mom is worrying, my father is proud, my grandmother is crying, and my aunts are giving me money."

"I alone can't control my excitement and I don't speak and dream about anything else besides my future school."

At St. Michael's, Matasova is studying and working harder than ever to realize her twin dreams of joining the international business community to help her country, and of increasing communications by decreasing stereotypes - first between people in Slovakia and America, then among countries throughout the world.

"I am worrying about the financial side of my studies, but I started my small revolution and I am also ready to finish it," she says.

"I'm keeping the faith."

Contributions to the fund which will keep Katarina going until financial aid can be awarded in the spring may still be made to "Katka," c/o MASS-BANK, 123 Haven St., Reading, MA 01867; or to the Laabs at 66 Temple Street in Reading.

Pet owners use caution on Halloween

Halloween means bags full of candy apples and chocolate bars. If you're like most families, even after reserving a year's worth of treats, you still have plenty to spare. Donate it, or dump it, but don't even think of giving the tiniest sample to your pooch or pussycat.

"Candy, particularly chocolate, can be harmful to pets," says Dan Carey, D.V.M.,

Research & Development, The Iams Company. "Chocolate contains theobromine, which can be toxic to canine and feline digestive systems. In large amounts, it can cause seizures and death in both cats and dogs."

"People often assume that human food and treats are just as healthy - and even tastier - than pet food. However, pets' nutritional needs are very dif-

Anti-Diet Weight Loss Program

The Anti-Diet Weight Loss Program, a unique approach to weight loss without dieting, will again be offered in Winchester this fall, beginning with Preview Sessions this week and next, at 165 Washington St., Winchester. According to Dr. Judith Goldberg, the program's director, this approach takes the struggle out of weight control and teaches students how to eat without overeating.

"There is a good reason why so many people go on one diet after another and gain weight right back again," explains Dr. Goldberg. "Until they change the way they think about food, it's only natural for people to keep falling back into old habits." Dr.

Anti-Diet Weight Loss
Dr. Judith Goldberg

Goldberg points out that many overeaters use food as a reward, a crutch, a source of consolation, or a spare time activity when bored. Naturally thin people, on the other hand, eat to satisfy their hunger. By teaching overeaters how to think about food the way a thin person does, the Anti-Diet Weight Loss Program can achieve success when other methods fail.

"My students have gone through the whole gamut. And they've been successful for a time, usually. They call me after they've gained weight again and they ask, 'What am I doing wrong?' I tell them that diets are based on deprivation, and that's their problem. People who overeat tend to be people who deprive themselves in many areas of their lives. Food becomes a relief, a way to relax. They can go on a diet, but they can endure the additional deprivation of the diet for only so long. When they go off the diet they end up making up for the deprivation and regaining the weight."

Dr. Goldberg continues enthusiastically, "The Anti-Diet Weight Loss Program works on the opposite principle from diets. We make sure there is no food deprivation first, and then we do a variety of activities through which students learn to recognize when they are genuinely hungry for food and when they are using eating for some other purpose."

"By the time they leave the program," states Dr. Goldberg, "they are in control of food. It has no more power over them."

The ten-week course begins during the second week of October. Morning, afternoon and evening classes will be offered. Each class consists of discussions, followed by simple, effective homework assignments. No diets, fat-counting or special foods are used. Preview sessions, which explain the program, are scheduled for Saturday, October 9 at 10 a.m. and October 12 at 4 and 7 p.m. The fee for the Preview is $10 and the fee for each class is $35, on a pay-as-you-go basis. Many health insurance plans will cover all or part of the fees under their mental health benefit.

Third Annual LaFayette Family Reunion held at Stone Zoo

It appeared to be a typical family reunion outing. There were checkered tablecloths, picnic baskets, coolers, old photo albums on the tables, and groups of young and old talking and laughing. But there's much more to this story.

This was the Third Annual Gustin and Alice LaFayette Family Reunion and it was held at the Walter D. Stone Memorial Zoo in Stoneham recently. Thirty-four family members - representing two generations from as close as Woburn, Billerica, Burlington, Tewksbury, Marlboro and as far away as New Hampshire and Connecticut - came together to reminisce about their fond memories of Stone Zoo.

There were nine LaFayette children and their father, Gustin, was curator from 1948-1977. "We're very proud of the legacy of Stone Zoo," said Ruth LaFayette-Gariepy of Woburn, "and wanted the 18 grandchildren to understand how important it was and still is to our family and future generations."

Other family members spoke fondly about their memories of being at the Zoo with their dad, visiting and playing with the Walter Stone children and having the privilege of getting a little closer to some of the animals than regular zoo visitors were allowed.

The Stone Zoo has gone through many transformations since Mr. LaFayette's days, but it holds a special place in the hearts of the many visitors for a wide variety of reasons.

New exhibits are under construction and lots of special events have been planned for this fall. Continental Cablevision and the Discovery Channel will be hosting Stone Zoo Discovery Day on Sunday, September 26 with Rex Trailer as the special guest.

Stoneham parents tell their side

STONEHAM PARENTS TELL THEIR SIDE - In response to the mention here a few weeks ago of the no-contract situation in Stoneham which resulted in teachers picketing and deciding to "work to rule," we have received the following notes from parents who want the story told from their point of view - and that of their children, who are "caught in the middle."

Below are excerpts from much longer letters "to the teachers," via letters to the editor, which appeared recently in the Stoneham "Independent." The letters come in response to the Stoneham Teachers Association "open letter to the citizens of Stoneham" which reads as follows:

"These economic times are difficult for all of us. Although Stoneham teachers are on a 'work to rule' action, working to the letter of our previous contract, please be assured that the educational process will not be compromised during the school day in the slightest degree." Those last four words are underlined.

"The students of Stoneham will continue to receive the highest quality of instruction possible, with integrity, and in a safe environment, an environment which the citizens of Stoneham have come to expect," continues the teachers association advertisement. "Our teachers have always provided the students of Stoneham with this solid educational experience. We hope that our contract difficulties will soon be settled and the Stoneham Teachers will be able to again participate in the many extra activities."

"We thank you for all of your support during these difficult times."

"In the book, 'How to Get the Best Public School Education for Your Child,' two Stoneham educators, Carol Ryan and Paula Sline, tell parents to check if 'the school bulletin boards reflect the vitality of its students,'" reads one letter to the editor.

"... To say that your 'work-to-rule' is not impacting the classroom is erroneous," reads another. "How welcome can children feel when teachers are wearing black armbands and bulletin boards are covered with newspapers. Teachers have been heard to comment, 'There's a beautiful bulletin board under there, but you can't see it until we have a contract.' The children don't understand any of this - they only know that their favorite teacher is unhappy and their parents are the bad guys."

"In the high school, the students are being given machine graded tests because the teachers don't have time to grade essays while 'working to rule'... The average salary of a Stoneham teacher in 1992 was $34,904 (range from $23,467 to $41,651 ... source: Superintendent's Office)...."

READING PRINCIPALS MAKE FASHION STATEMENT

Hats have been banned this year at Reading High and in a few years, according to the principals, everyone will be thrilled that the gang-related problem has already been taken care of. After all, Reading High has not had a severe problem like Medford High or some other schools, but you never know, it could happen here.

Meanwhile, administrators report that the kids have immediately accepted a very difficult decision with incredible maturity.

And the kids are still asking: What acceptance? What maturity? What gangs?

Leaving some parents asking: Isn't it simply impolite to wear hats inside, in school, in class? Couldn't the school have used that as a reason? What gangs?

BURLINGTON HIGH HAS A PLAN - Burlington High sophomores are being offered the chance to participate in "Planning for the Future," a "new and exciting assessment program" which measures basic academic development in English, mathematics, reading, and science reasoning.

PLAN helps identify career interests, relating them to educational and training requirements; measures knowledge of effective study skills, giving students the opportunity to indicate areas of special concern where they would like help; and assists students to prepare for their junior and senior college boards.

Should your elderly parent still be driving

One of the hardest issues faced by families is how to approach a parent with concerns about their driving. Elderly drivers vary in ability and should not hand up their car keys just because they are getting older.

The right to drive is not given up easily however, so your concerns should be brought up tactfully. It is also quite possible that the problems an older driver is experiencing may be the result of physical impairments that are treatable.

A publication of the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety can help families deal with this touchy issue when a parent does not want to discuss the problems. "Concerned about an Older Driver? A Guide for Families and Friends" (Order No. 849) can be ordered for $5 from the Foundation at: 1730 m Street, NW, Suite 401, Washington, D.C. 20036.

If a parent is willing to discuss the issue, AARP has a publication to help assess his or her driving abilities. The "Older Driver Skill Assessment and Resource Guide (#D14957)" can be obtained at no charge from AARP, 601 E Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20049.

Mystic Valley Elder Services, Inc. is a non-profit organization annually serving over 10,000 elders and their families in partnership with the Councils on Aging in Everett, Malden, Medford, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Stoneham and Wakefield. ## "Mini-Meals" are the proper diet for persons over age 60

Anyone over 60 and adhering to three square meals a day might do their body a favor by splitting those three meals into six "mini-meals."

That's the recommendation of Tufts University nutrition professor Helen Rasmussen, M.S., R.D., whose nutrition findings have appeared in The Journal of the American College of Nutrition.

Rasmussen, who is also a research dietitian with the U.S.D.A. Human Nutrition Research Center on Aging at Tufts, says studies reveal that snacking - eating smaller, more frequent servings of such foods as low-fat cookies and crackers, fruit-based milk shakes, small sandwiches, cereals, pastas, grains - is actually a far better way for older people to get the nutrition they need.

"As we age, our stomach's supply of hydrochloric acid, the gastric secretion that helps digest food, is diminished, so food isn't broken up as quickly," says Rasmussen. "That is one reason why older people tend to feel gassy, bloated or uncomfortable after meals. The stomach has received more food than it can easily digest."

"But by having frequent, smaller portions of food throughout the day - in the form of both snacks and 'mini-meals' - the older person is working with changes that take place naturally as part of the aging process."

Rasmussen adds that changes that take place as the result of aging sometimes make it harder to meet nutritional needs. "For example, as many as 50% of the elderly have dental care problems that make chewing more difficult," says Rasmussen. "One snack I recommend for people with chewing problems is graham crackers and jam. The graham crackers are nutritious and easy to eat and the jam provides the sweetness many older people enjoy."

Also, Rasmussen points out that taste buds can become less sensitive as it once did, resulting in a loss of appetite. Consequently, meals are forgotten or skipped," she says. "One tip is to set an alarm clock as a reminder to eat. At the end of each snack or mini-meal, set the alarm again for the next meal." Fluid intake and exercise are important, too, says Rasmussen.

Jo-Ann Fasano wins MVNS scholarship

Professional figure skater to physical therapist: Jo-Ann Fasano of Saugus is training hard to make that career switch - with some help from the Melrose-area Visiting Nurse Service (MVNS).

Fasano has won a $750 scholarship from MVNS to complete her studies in physical therapy (PT) this school year. MVNS awarded the scholarship to a student in its service area - Melrose and surrounding communities - with high academic standing who is committed to a career in nursing or physical, occupational or speech therapy.

JO-ANN FASANO - a former professional figure skater, has won a $750 scholarship from the Melrose-area Visiting Nurse Service to help her complete her studies and start a new career - as a physical therapist.

Fasano will graduate in June '94 from Northeastern University's Bouvé College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences with a bachelor of science degree in physical therapy. She became interested in physical therapy after she injured her leg while skating, and received PT as part of her treatment. After a year of treatment, she began to compete again.

One of 33 applicants for the MVNS scholarship, the daughter of Antonia and Guido Fasano and sister of Gail, Janette, Ann, Jean and twin brother, John, Jo-Ann skated competitively while she was in high school (Saugus High, Class of '85) and professionally for four years before starting college.

When Jo-Ann Fasano skated competitively, she trained daily, sandwiching practice around all other activities, including school. Now, she's training in different "arenas:" at Mass. General Hospital and the Lahey Clinic Medical Center, as a PT co-op student, in conjunction with her coursework at Northeastern. Come graduation, she'll be ready for her second professional "debut."

Local Realtors honored

Priscilla Fitzgerald-Missick, Principal Broker of Fitzgerald & Associates and 1993 Realtor of the Year for the Eastern Middlesex Association of Realtors, and Patricia Black, Sales Manager for Fitzgerald & Associates, recently attended the 69th annual Massachusetts Association of Realtors convention in Quebec City, Quebec.

At the three day convention, Missick & Black received training on how to implement effective goal setting strategies and problem solving skills in daily real estate practices, enabling them to enhance the professional productivity of the staff of Fitzgerald & Associates. In addition to the daily workshops, the pair attended discussions on agency law, environmental issues and fair housing.

Discussions ranged from the implementation of buyer agency in the marketplace to legislative issues regarding the "Rivers Bill" and Title V.

During the 1993 MAR Convention, Fitzgerald and Black also attended an industry trade show featuring exhibits of the latest equipment and services available to real estate professionals today.

During the four day convention, Priscilla Fitzgerald-Missick was honored at a Medieval Dinner reproduction honoring the state's local Realtors of the Year. President Bill Chee, National Association of Realtors from Honolulu, Hawaii, congratulated the attendees being exemplary role models for the entire Association during this past year.

"Get the Most for your Primary Care Provider" program Oct. 7

The one theme certain to emerge from all debate about President Clinton's Health Reform package is the importance of primary care. Primary care will undoubtedly represent the access point for all individuals into the health care system.

But what is primary care, and, more important, how will you know what to look for in a primary care provider? How ill you be sure you are getting the best possible value for your health care dollar?

On Thursday, October 7th, The Malden Hospital will present a free program entitled "Getting the Most for Your Primary Care Provider," at 7 p.m. in the Hospital's Auditorium.

Louis Giorgio, M.D., will present the program designed to help individuals establish and maintain a maximally effective relationship with their personal physician. In addition to discussing the importance of two-way communication, Dr. Giorgio will help participants determine a preventive approach to health management that ensures the physician and the patient are proactive partners in total health management -- body, mind and soul.

He will also discuss the importance of the family dynamic, how your family's health care needs and issues impact you, and how you may help family members -- parents, children, siblings, practice preventive, responsible personal health care.

For more information, or to register for "Getting the Most From Your Primary Care Provider," please call (617) 397-6000.

What to know when buying jewelry

Do consumers know what to look for when they're buying a piece of fine jewelry? Or are they unsure about what they're getting and whether or not they're getting a good value for their money?

According to Jewelers of America (JA), the national organization that provides consumer information on jewelry, consumers don't have to be hesitant when selecting the jewelry they've always wanted.

There are two things to watch out for when shopping for real jewelry. The first is the "discount sale." Consumers should make sure a discount is really a discount. It's important to find out if the merchandise on sale was in fact sold at the "regular" price quoted.

Secondly, consumers should educate themselves on the quality of jewelry before shopping for it. Here's some important facts to be considered when buying...

•Gold - When buying gold jewelry, always look for a karat mark (18K, 14K, etc.) as well as the manufacturer's trademark stamped alongside of it. This means that the manufacturer whose trademark is stamped on the piece of jewelry is guaranteeing the karat mark. Watch out for jewelry that has only a karat mark and not trademark. It may not be the karatage it says it is.

•Diamonds - The "Four C's" determine the value of a diamond. The "Four C's" stand for Carat (unit that measures weight), Color, Clarity (internal natural inclusions or external surface irregularities) and Cut. Consumers should ask their jeweler to explain each of the "Four C's" in detail before buying a diamond. And they should shop around for similar stones to make sure it's a good price.

•Colored Gemstones - The same factors determine the value of colored gemstones - Color (strength and purity are key), Cut, Clarity and Carat Weight.

•Cultured Pearls - Look for a deep luster and iridescence. Also, look for clear, not dull or muddy, color tones as well as for surface perfection. And, the more symmetrical the shape, the more valuable the pearl.

"When you're looking for real jewelry, whether it's for yourself or as a gift, you are investing in something valuable and timeless," said JA Chairman Mike Roman. "It's important to purchase jewelry from a jeweler who is established in the community and has earned a reputation for integrity, service and reliability."

October 17

Middlesex Canal re-enactment

October 17 is the day the Middlesex Canal Association has been preparing for so long. On this day, actors in a theatre-in-the-round will re-enact a crucial planning meeting of the Middlesex Canal Corporation that took place in the Blanchard Tavern in Medford 200 years ago.

In October 1793, a dozen outstanding business leaders and political figures met to plan the building and financing of the Middlesex Canal to connect Boston with the Merrimack River at a point that later became the City of Lowell. In 1793, when there were no railroads, and highways were barely passable, a canal would offer, hopefully, good economical transportation for commerce between Boston and towns along the Merrimack in New Hampshire. No overland canals existed in this country.

The gentlemen present at that meeting were farsighted and courageous; they could borrow some technology from European canal experience, but much ingenuity would be required to adapt to our special New England conditions.

The re-enactment will capture the flavor of the period, and the costumed players will assume the roles of the original participants, several of whom served in the American Revolution and others later served in important positions in the Commonwealth. For example, James Sullivan and John Brooks both served as governor, and Loammi Baldwin was a Massachusetts representative and senator as well as Sheriff of Middlesex County. Many aspects of the venture, including design, construction, operation, finances, and revenue will emerge from the participants' lively discussion.

Members of the Middlesex Canal Association, members of local historical societies, and others interested in local history are cordially invited to attend "Launching the Middlesex Canal."

The performance will take place on Sunday, October 17, at 3 p.m. in the Medford Senior Center on Riverside Avenue, near the center of Medford. This location is within a short distance of the original meeting at the no longer existing Blanchard Tavern.

The performance will last about an hour, and will be free of charge. Refreshments will be served following the performance.

If there are any questions, please call David Dettinger at (617) 729-0570.

Award winning musical "Falsettos" in October

YOUNG JASON (played by Sivan Cotel) gets some batting tips from his father's friend, Whizzer (played by Stephen Bogardus) in the 1992 Tony Award winning musical, "Falsettos," coming to Boston's Colonial Theatre for a three week engagement, beginning October 12 through 31.

FALSETTOS, the Tony Award-winning musical by William Finn and James Lapine, comes to the Colonial Theatre with the Broadway cast for a special engagement October 12 through 31. The unanimously acclaimed musical recently ended a fifteen month run on Broadway.

Winner of 1992 Tony Awards for Best Score (Music and Lyrics) and Best Book, FALSETTOS is a funny and touching story about love, relationships and a different kind of family. The story, told with humor, follows the lives and loves of urban Marvin, his family and friends.

ANTHONY MANCONI

"In a democracy, one vote is very important," that's what Filippa Pizzi said in a recent article. Filippa is a 37 year Mass. State House Librarian. I personally remember a state representative election that was decided by just two votes. The recount didn't change it at all, so one vote more to the loser would have made it a tie.

Filippa's research discovered the following: in 1776, one vote gave America the English Language instead of German; in 1876, one vote gave Rutherford B. Hayes the presidency of the U.S.; in 1845, one vote brought Texas into the Union. Folks, everyone's vote is important.

My Uncle John Shea told a candidate for mayor years ago, "I wouldn't vote for you if you were the Angel Gabriel." The candidate smiled and replied, "John, if I were the Angel Gabriel, you wouldn't be in my constituency." Mort Walker said, "The reason Kathy can't lose weight, even though she diets 'religiously', is because the only time she doesn't eat is when she's in church."

France is considering buying the Rock of Gibraltar from Great Britain and renaming it in honor of the late president and General Charles DeGaulle. It probably will be called "DeGaulle Stone."

If you can say the following tongue twister three times without stumbling you may qualify to be a radio announcer at the "Powerful Little Five Watter" in Nashville, Tennessee - "A box of biscuits, a box of mixed biscuits and a biscuit mixer."

Hospital offers free screening

Proper eye care is crucial, especially after the age of 50 when changes to the eyes are inevitable and the risk of developing eye conditions such as glaucoma and cataracts increases. More than half of all blindness that occurs in the elderly is preventable with proper vision care. If detected early, serious eye conditions are easily treatable.

In an effort to prevent serious eye conditions, or even blindness, four Melrose-Wakefield Hospital Ophthalmologists will be joining forces on Thursday, October 20, for the Bright Eyes Vision Screening. Ophthalmologist C. Douglas Evans, M.D., Martin Cutler, M.D., Jason Gilbert, M.D., and Michael Price, M.D., will examine eyes for possible eye conditions, discuss current treatments and recommend follow up care if necessary.

The Bright Eyes Vision Screening will begin at 9 a.m. in the Perkins Lecture Hall at Melrose-Wakefield Hospital in Melrose. This is a free program and registration is required. Please call (617) 979-3090 for additional information, or to register.

M.E.'s for You

Why is it that my paperboy can pitch a no-hitter in an afternoon little league game and can't hit my front porch with my evening paper? Folks, behind almost every successful married man stands a "proud" wife and a "surprised" mother-in-law. Lee Preble, a senior-citizen from Burlington is engaged to "young" Charlotte Sargent. When I looked surprised, Lee said to me, "Chipper, just because there's a little snow on the roof doesn't mean the fire is out in the furnace!" Good Luck friends.

I remember when my Uncle John Shea of North Reading was going to marry a 25-year-old beautiful blonde bombshell. "How in the world did you get her consent to marry you?" I asked. Uncle John smiled and replied, "I told her I was 90 years old."

PERSONALITY WINNERS: Police Officer Dave Donegan, Dwight "Dewey" Evans, Bob and Lorrie Priestly, Jack Cummings, Michelle Gates, Joe and Barbara Rubbico, all of LYNNFIELD; Rhonda Tyder, Craig Warnock, Brandy

Thornton, Donald Stamegna and Cindy Tweedie, all of NORTH READING; Rebecca Silver, Peter Gile, Rick Griffin, Allen Incollingo and Jerry Robbins, all of MALDEN; Stephen Wong, Julia Tutela, Shaun Spadafora, Elizabeth Joyce, Maureen Sheehan and Bill Burton, all of MELROSE; Walter and Lorrie Donahue, Kathy King, Joe Lavillotti, Jackie Wallace and Charlie Miranda, all of MEDFORD; Tony Falco, Lisa Ferrari, Fr. John Crispo, Frank Guiliano and Peggy Walsh, all of SOMERVILLE; Darnell R. Canada, Lisa M. Marasa, Domenic LaCava, Jr., Rebecca Sutherland, Frederick Van-Magness, Kathleen Kieran, all of READING.

Also, Robin Prentice, Lisa Muolo, Karen Hill, Margie Geary, Dave O'Connor and Joe Staub, all of STONEHAM; Kathleen L. MacArthur, Frank A. Micciche, Alison Otis, Jennifer Pollo and Cynthia Pree, all of WINCHESTER; Jeffrey A. Akel, Lynne A. O'Beil, Carmen L. Gonzalez, Heather A. Joyce and Paul W. Hayes, all of WOBURN; Stephanie A. Joey Adams said, "Beverly Hills, California is a fabulous place; home for the rich and famous. However, there are some of the poor rich who receive Christmas Food baskets. They are the people with only one swimming pool." There is no one with more endurance than the men or women who sell insurance. Some stock brokers, however, have the dubious honor of joining that club. One of them in particular has called my Aunt Nora every day for a week, trying to sell her some sure fire stock. He almost gave up but as his last 'parting shot' he declared, "Buy this stock and I'll guarantee it will triple in value in ten years!" "Sonny," my Aunt Nora said, "I'm 85 years old. I don't even buy 'green' bananas anymore, so thank you and goodbye!"

Emergency Health Crisis Service

"Do you, or someone you know, need help? Are you feeling hopeless, desperate, isolated, out of control or depressed? Are family conflicts escalating to the point where you wish someone would intervene because you or your family are unable to continue to struggle with upsetting behavior?" asks an EMHS spokesperson.

If these or other kinds of disturbing activities reach crisis proportions to those living in the Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Stoneham or Wakefield area they need to know about the Emergency Mental Health Crisis number at 1-800-867-1111.

This is a new seven day a week and 24-hour emergency service being provided by Eastern Middlesex Human Services (EMHS). This service is unique in the area because the goal is to provide mobile outreach to people in their homes within an hour or with a phone call by trained emergency counselors.

Everyone experiences stress at times, but when that problem becomes overwhelming or an individual is in need of immediate care, a compassionate professional trained to deal with mental health emergencies may be needed. They can help persons in crisis to make a decision regarding possible steps to take toward solving the problem. This can range from simply talking to someone in their home until the crisis passes, to providing clinical evaluation, respite away from home for a limited time and even hospitalization in an emergency.

Jane Brodie, EMHS Director of Mental Health Crisis Services, believes that there are other options within the community to help people if someone is not at the point of needing to be in a hospital. "Our goal is prevention as well as problem solving - before things get out of control," says Brodie who holds a Ph.D. and is a licensed Massachusetts psychologist. She stresses, "In meeting the mental health needs of the community that are difficult we want people to feel safe and have trust."

The Crisis Services was awarded to Eastern Middlesex Human Services by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health and took effect on July 15. Eastern Middlesex Human Services is able to accept many different types of insurance and will provide the service to anyone regardless of their ability to pay.

Residents of the Eastern Middlesex area are encouraged to call the 800 number to find out what is available or just to talk with someone.

MA. 617-944-7750 or 508-664-3118

My late Uncle John Shea would greet one and all each morning saying, "The top of the morning to you and the rest of the day to myself." It's only three weeks since schools opened and already Dennis Tully brought home a note to his father from his teacher, Miss Maria Cole. The note said, "Mr Tully, your son, Dennis, should have an encyclopedia." Dennis brought back his father's note that said, "Dear Miss Cole, my son, Dennis, will 'walk' to school like I did!"

I came home from the office and said to Kathy, "Good news, dear. The editor gave me two tickets for a musical show in Boston." "Great!" Kathy exclaimed, "I'll start dressing right away." "Very good," I replied, "We'll be on time for the first time in 20 years. The show is tomorrow night."

You have noticed I'm sure that mornings are getting a little chilly. George Gould went out to get the morning newspaper on his front porch and shouted to me, "Brrr, Chipper. It sure is cool this morning." "I don't know why you feel cold, George," I replied, "You have your winter underwear on." "How the heck do you know that?" he asked. I smiled and said, "You forgot to put your pants on!"

"Hello, police? I want to report a burglar in the Old Ladies' Home." "OK calm down," Officer Jerry Gately said, "I'll send a police car right away. Who is this calling?" "The burglar, please hurry!"

Jimmy Quinno of Woburn said, "Chipper, anyone who goes to a psychiatrist ought to have his head examined." "I remember when I got my induction notice and was told to report for the physical. The psychiatrist whispered in my ear, 'Do you like bathing beauties?'" "I don't know," I replied, "I've never given one a bath." "You're crazy," he said. "I want a second opinion." "O.K, you're ugly too!" "Well, doc!" I exclaimed, "You won't win any Mr. America Prizes either. In fact you look like the picture on the Iodine bottle." "I shouldn't have said that because I was shipped out the next day to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station."

"A Bronx Tale" - Short Takes

"A Bronx Tale" Starring Robert De Niro, Chazz Palminteri, Lillo Brancato, Francis Capra, Taral Hicks. Directed by De Niro. Screenplay by Palminteri. Produced by Jane Rosenthal, Jon Kilik, De Niro. Rated R.

Robert De Niro has always been the kind of guy who could inhabit the skin of whatever character he portrayed. Now, having made his directorial debut with "A Bronx Tale," he has proved he can inhabit entire themes.

Atmospheric, honest, intriguing and complete in every sense, this movie is artfully directed. De Niro had a great script to work from, one based on a true incident by leading man/screenwriter Chazz Palminteri.

As a young boy growing up in the Bronx, Palminteri witnessed a man shoot another man during what appeared to be a fight over a parking space. He took that incident and turned it into the play that was the basis for this film about life in an Italian-American neighborhood in which the wise guys aren't the only people on the block, as is often the case.

In Palminteri's story, nine-year-old Calogero (Francis Capra) witnesses a shooting, but refuses to rat on Sonny, the tough gangster (Palminteri) who owns the bar next door to his parent's modest apartment. His father, played with a working class integrity by De Niro, explains that Calogero did a good thing, but he did it for a bad man.

At that age, the little boy is simply dazzled by Sonny, his sharkskin suits, cool demeanor and obvious power. When Sonny wants to take this kid under his wing, daddy De Niro is furious.

He wants his boy to understand that the real heroes are the working men who get up and slog through jobs they hate in order to support their families. Joining the Mob and hanging around in bars all day is the easy way out.

But Calogero can't keep away from the bar, or from Sonny. He sneaks over to be with Sonny whenever he can, and he sees something his father can't. Sonny is no knuckle-dragging Mafia kingpin. He may be brutal when necessary, but he is brilliant. He never wants Calogero to enter his life, but simply to learn from it. He sees the boy much as the son he never had. It is to both Palminteri's and De Niro's credit that Sonny is one of the most fleshed out characters we've seen in a drama in years.

Surprisingly, both Lillo Brancato as the 17-year-old Calogero and Capra as the younger version hold their own against Palminteri's Machiavellian mobster and De Niro's earnest father. Both boys, along with many other members of the cast, had never before acted professionally, which may explain why their performances are so true to life.

There's so much going on in this flick that it could become a textbook example of how rich and fulfilling a movie can be. The men who cluster around Sonny, with their nicknames and unusual faces, are mirrored in the boys who later make up the teens a 17-year-old Calogero chooses as his friends. All of these men, young and old, are like the characters who inhabited every working class neighborhood during that time when we knew our neighbors.

Calogero's mother (Katherine Narducci) is as tempted by Sonny's money as her son, though she's old enough to know better. Taral Hicks as Jane, the leggy black teen the older Calogero falls for, knows as well as her smitten school mate the racial trouble they are asking for. De Niro showed such artistry as a director that he was able to reveal the dichotomy in each of these people, as well as the power of their choices over the rest of their lives.

De Niro also captured a time in the 1960s when these little Italian-American neighborhoods stubbornly remained untouched against the era's political and social turbulence. But backdrop never overpowers this story, it simply becomes another character, not unlike the paunchy men hanging around the corner, waiting on Sonny. Or the leather jacketed teens hanging around their "social club" with Calogero on a sunny school day.

All of these factors, from De Niro's well crafted direction of a remarkable cast, to a dramatic intensity cleverly peppered with gritty humor make "A Bronx Tale" one movie you should not miss.

Short Takes

The Good Son stars Macaulay Culkin as an angelic-looking little boy who is actually a snarling monster, though only cousin Elijah Wood knows for sure. Of course, Wood can't get anyone to believe him. The plot suffers from a lack of subtlety and therefore from a lack of tension, as Culkin's evil nature is never allowed to gain any momentum. Though the boys do wonders with their roles, the script would have been better suited to a television production. Interesting to note that the majority of the film was shot on Cape Ann. Rated R. ***1/2

ROBERT DE NIRO IN "A BRONX TALE." The film tells the story of a young boy torn between his tough, street-wise, working class father (De Niro) and a violent yet charismatic crime boss (Chazz Palminteri).

Striking Distance manages to be somewhat interesting because the cast rises above the lame script. Bruce Willis plays a Pittsburgh homicide detective whose career is ruined while investigating a serial killer. The murders begin again two years later when he's been busted to river patrol and teamed with (gasp) a female partner, Sarah Jessica Parker. Except for the performances and a couple of thrilling chase scenes, this is very movie-of-the-week. Rated R. **

Undercover Blues features Kathleen Turner and Dennis Quaid as the Nick and Nora Charles of the 90s. As super-spies, and even better parents, these two are funny, agile and gorgeous. Luckily they are tres amusing, as comic book sensibilities and unbridled silliness sink the plot. Rated PG-13. **

Man Without a Face marks Mel Gibson's directorial debut playing a loner in a small Maine town who was hideously disfigured by a fire. Nick Stahl is the unhappy, confused pre-teen who seeks out the town hermit as his tutor, hoping he will gain entrance to a boarding school and escape his all-female family. Extremely well-written, humorous and touching, the film's only flaw is its multiple endings. Rated PG-13. ***1/2

The Secret Garden is the best, most magical adaptation to date of Frances Hodgson Burnett's delightful children's book. Kate Maberly is the spoiled orphan shipped to England as the ward of a cold uncle who runs a strange, unhappy household. Digging in a locked up garden, Mary begins a healing process that reunited her dysfunctional, somewhat twisted family with each other - and reality. Quite beautifully made. Rated G. ***1/2

The Fugitive is THE movie to see this summer. It's an engrossing, edge-of-your-seat, heart-pumper of a flick with some of the best action and chase scenes ever captured on film. Harrison Ford plays a celebrated surgeon arrested for the brutal murder of his wife (Sela Ford). After a daring escape, he spends most of the movie trying to elude a U.S. Marshall (Tommy Lee Jones) who is every bit as clever and tenacious as Ford. Great fun. Rated PG-13. ****

In the Line of Fire is a thriller about a very smart, extremely cruel assassin (John Malkovich) who plans to land in the Criminal Hall of Fame by putting a bullet into the president. Clint Eastwood is the steely, uncompromising Secret Service agent with other ideas. Strong characterizations and lasting psychological profiles, clearly defined by both the script and the performances, make this a taut, memorable drama. Rated R. *** 1/2

Jurassic Park is the ultimate movie in every sense of the word. Resurrected dinosaurs both enchant and terrify the first visitors to a newly developed theme park. It doesn't matter that the dinos are the only stars here and the people are barely fleshed out, because the special effects will keep you on the edge of your seat. But director Steven Spielberg eradicated the cynicism of Michael Crichton's book, so the fun tends to be more visual than emotional. And it's too violent for children under the age of 10. Rated PG-13. ***1/2

**** excellent
